

DAY 1 OF THE PLAN — READ STRUCTURE, NOT CONTENT

Topper-Copy Analysis Worksheet

Don't just admire topper copies — reverse-engineer them. Pick one answer, fill this sheet, and steal the structure. After 5 copies you'll see the same skeleton repeating: that skeleton is what you're training into your own hand.

Topper & source
Question + directive verb
Intro type definition / data / context / committee
Intro length (words)
How many dimensions / sub-heads?
Examples used schemes, Articles, data, reports
Diagram / visual used?
Conclusion type way-forward / SDG / verdict / quote
How was the directive obeyed?

3 things I'll steal into my next answer

- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____

One habit of mine this copy exposes

Do this for 5 copies in Week 1. You are not memorising their content — you are downloading their structure. The fastest way to write like a topper is to first read like an examiner.
